1. Several factory police units in Austria were issued new uniforms by the Administration of Soviet Industrial Enterprises in Austria (USIA) Central Administration. The new uniform consists of a gray service cap, gray trousers, a gray blouse with green edgings around the collar and along the trousers, a shirt with necktie and a gray coat, buttoned to the neck. Each factory police man has a belt with two ammunition pockets each with 25 rounds of ammunition and is armed with a rifle (mostly of German origin) or a pistol.
 2. The Central Committee of the Communist Party of Austria issued a directive advising all district functionaries of the Communist Party of Austria to contact the directors of the USIA enterprises and the factory police leaders in their districts for the purpose of organizing the political training of the factory police.
